MARRYING RECORD HOLDS

Bristol Pastor in Twenty-Seven Years Has Performed 5,142 Services. Other News Notes Gathered From Various Points in Virginia.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., January 8.—Mrs. Frank M. Woods, of this city, has received a letter from a Red Cross official telling of the death of her husband, which occurred at base hospital No. 19, Vichy, Allier, France, November 14. Mr. Woods was admitted to the hospital November 9 from a hospltal nearer the frent, suffering with a gunshot wound in the left upper arm.
He also had pneumonia, which hastened his death. His funeral was at the same time with that of two other American soldiers, and the services were conducted by the American chaplain, Mr. Horshey. It was a military funeral, the caskets being covered with American flags. A guard of French soldiers marched beside the bodies to the American cemetery on the edge of the town, adjoining the French cemetery—"a beautiful location, with the green fields and hills all around," says the letter. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Paster Makes Record.

Paster Makes Record.

BRISTOL, VA., January 8.—What is probably the State record for the number of marriages performed by a single minister in one year, is held here by the Rev. Frank II. Scattergood, who married 765 couples during 1918, Most of these couples came here from all sections of Virginia, Tennessee, West Virginia and North Carolina. The record set by the late Rev. A. II. Burroughs, noted "marrying parson," who married 5.152 couples here in twenty-feven years, will be surpassed by Rev. Scattergood in only seven years, should he maintain his present rate.

the war was given yesterday at a called meeting of representatives of number of organizations of the city.

The meeting was called by Mrs. George L. Street, Jr., president of the Richmond Educational Association, and was held in St. Paul's parish house at Miss Nowland represented the State Library; Mrs. B. B. Munford represented both the State Co-Operative Educational Association and the Woman's Committee of the State Council of Defense; Mrs. John Hunter represented the Richmond Woman's Club; Mesdames Spiers and Craig, the Federation of Mothers' Clubs; Mrs. James W. Durham, the Educal Suffrage League; Jesse C. Duke, the Federation of Labor; Mrs. Ben Crump, the Every Monday Club; Mrs. Samuel Travers Clover, the Burcau of Vocations, There were present besides these Mrs. Roy K. Flannagan, Gaston Lichtenstein and Rev. James W. Durham.

Mrs. Street presided at the meeting and Mrs. Munford spoke of the urgent need of a public library in the city. Mrs. S. T. Clover made an eloquent appeal for the library as a memorial, saying that such a memorial typified a permanent benefit to the community as the death of Richmond boys had helped to make possible a permanent benefit to the whole world.

WOULD MAKE LIBRARY

"The library would thus be a living memorial," said Mrs. Clover, "as their death was a living sacrifice."

Not only the dead heroes, but those living who participated in the fight for democracy are to be immortalized on the great tablets on the walls of the library which will carry a list of the names of the sons which Richmond sent into the struggle.

An appropriation from the treasury of the Richmond Educational Association to further the movement was voted upon. Mrs. George Harvey Clarke was appointed chairman of publicity and Mrs. James W. Durham enairman of the press from this organization.

Rev. James W. Durham spoke in the courthouse on the South Side last 5 o'clock, Miss Coralle Johnson and Miss Nowland represented the State chairman of the press from this or-ganization.

Rev. James W. Durham spoke in the courthouse on the South Side last night relative to the question of hav-ing a branch library in this section of the city as a memorial to the South Side boys who had taken part in the war. Thomas B. Martin is chairman of the memorial committee on the South Side.

With an undercurrent of patriotic sentiment running through the lines, brought out by capital character roles, it revealed flashes of humor while evoking an occasional tear. Taken by and large, it proved as entertaining a play as the local theater has housed in a long time.

Eighty-Three Are Dead as a Result of Wounds Received in Battle and Accident, and Other Causes Killed Four.

WASHINGTON, January S.—The two casualty lists announced to-day by the Committee on Public Information contain the names of 544 men, divided as follows: Killed in action, 12; died of wounds, 83; died of accident and other causes, 4; died of airplane accident, 1; died of disease, 148; severely wounded, 269; wounded (degree undetermined), 6; wounded slightly, 6; missing in action, 24. The names of Virginians and North Carolina men follow:

Gus Weinberg, as Karl Pfeiffer, the unregenerate German, gives an impersonation of great force and merit. He meets all demands for serious as well as lighter moods, and in this he is well supported by Louise Burmelster, as Marie Pfeiffer, the wife, who presents an excellent type of German housewife, whose husband's word is law. He insists that when he says "yes," she must not even think "no." Lighter touches of German character, though slightly verging on the Jewish, are given by Al Shean, as Henry Block, who brings a vast amount of life to the play.

Pam Browning, as June Block, and Oris Holland, as "Billy" Pfeiffer, the lovers, are excellent in their roles, Others in the cast are Leonard Ide, as Stuart, the German agent, who handles his part well, and Miss Doubleday, in the unimportant role of Nora, the play is enlivened by the wordy the maid.

The play is enlivened by the wordy quarries between the two friends. Karl and Henry, which always end happily, though with more or less banter. There are strong climaxes, and the action moves well and swiftly. An audience of good size appeared highly amused, and one heard no dissenting voices. The play will be given at the Academy to-day, matinee and night performances.

In making your theatrical flights this season, don't miss seeing "Going Up," a musical comedy that has been the vogue in New York for nearly two seasons. In the first place, it has the solld foundation of a really amusing and coherent plot. In the second place a captivating score. In the third place, it is presented by a thoroughly capable cast, and in the fourth place, it has a spirited, well-chosen and good-to-look-at chorus.

A musical comedy that measures up to these standards is too good to be overlooked. To begin with, its story is one of the best that has been related in play form in years; its book and lyrics by Otto Harbach and James Montgomery are snappy and full of "pep." and its music by Louis A. Hirsch tuneful and whistly, and to end with, it is presented by Cohan and Harris, and this fact alone should be sufficient guarantee of its worthwhileness. Therefore, we repeat, in making up your program of amuse-ments don't overlooked. making up your program of amuse-ments, don't overlook "Going Up," which will be the attraction at the Academy to-morrow and Saturday and
